SANKEI-EN GARDEN

PHONE: 045-621-0634/5

The purely Japanese-styled Sankei-en Garden, located in Yokohama, is unique and famous throughout Japan. It features many ancient buildings that have been designated as important cultural properties. Most are hundreds of years old and have been brought to the garden and reconstructed. These buildings are all attractively set among the hills, valleys and ponds in the garden.

This celebrated garden was originally built in 1906 by Tomitaro Hara, who was a noted millionaire and known as a man of refined taste. It was opened to the public and was taken over by the Sankei-en Hoshokai Foundation in 1953.

The garden is attractive all year 'round. A profusion of flowers bloom in spring; cool breezes blow in summer; autumn affords a vista of scarlet leaves, transformed into a beautiful snowscape in winter.
